“Please contact me to follow-up. I am interested in learning more about the work of the Center for Effective Philanthropy. Specifically, I want to know more about”

- Grantee Perception Report® (GPR): based on a survey of a foundation’s grantees, viewed in a comparative context
- Comparative Board Report (CBR): based on a survey of board members and analysis of a board’s structure and processes, viewed in a comparative context
- Operational Benchmarking Report: illustrating comparative data on administrative spending and program staff load ratios (e.g., active grants/program officer)
- Staff Perception Report: providing an understanding of staff perceptions of foundation effectiveness and job satisfaction on a comparative basis (note: requires a minimum of 20 staff)
- Supporting the Center’s work through a grant or individual contribution
[To undertake our ambitious agenda and continue to provide new research and assessment tools to the field, we will need to meet ambitious fundraising goals: $1.1 million in 2005, for example. Although earned revenue accounts for 40 percent of our budget, we need grant funding to support our “R&D” and research publications.]
